

While the Dough Rises

Cozy Bread-Making Scenes to Color

Three pages. A little time for color.

Try these actual pages from our adult coloring book:

The Quiet Jar - starter bubbles and a label of your own

Focaccia Dimples - a rhythm of herbs and little pools

The Baker's Notebook - a cover pattern you invent

Print the next three pages on US Letter paper (8.5 x 11 inches).

Choose Actual Size or 100%, and print one page per sheet.

Printable page numbers are retained. Sources are linked on each page.

The full book includes 40 designs with short facts and creative prompts.

This is a coloring book, not a recipe guide.

Discover the collection at inkylovecoloring.com

For your household

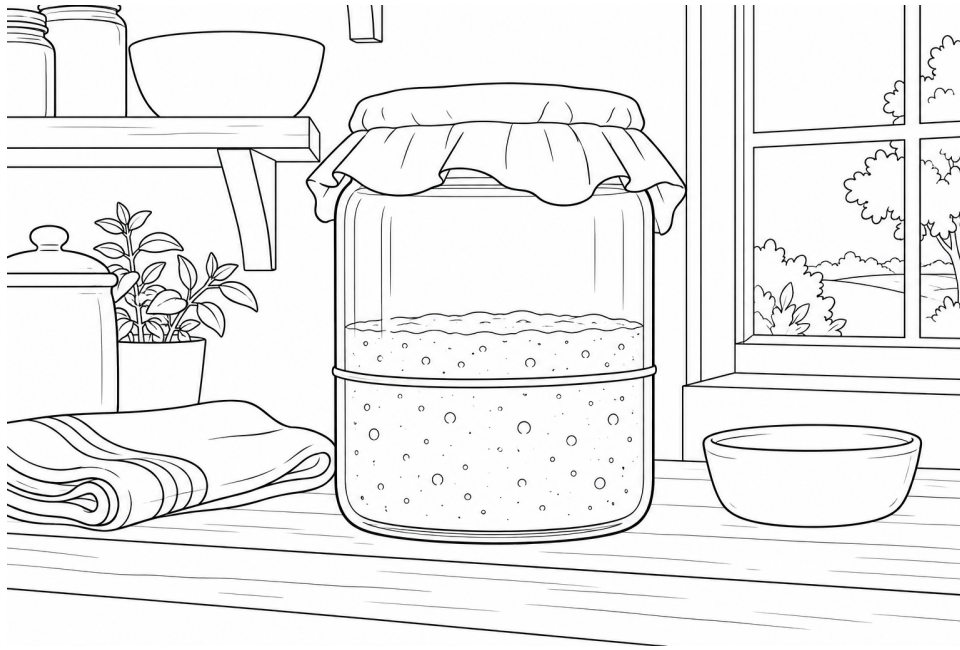

Print these pages as often as you like for personal use in your household.

Please do not resell or redistribute the PDF or uncolored pages.

You may share photos of pages you have colored yourself.

The Quiet Jar

While the Dough Rises

A sourdough starter begins with flour and water; over time, its living culture becomes bubbly.

Make it yours

Try different colors for the jar band, folded linen, and tiny bubbles.

Design a jar label

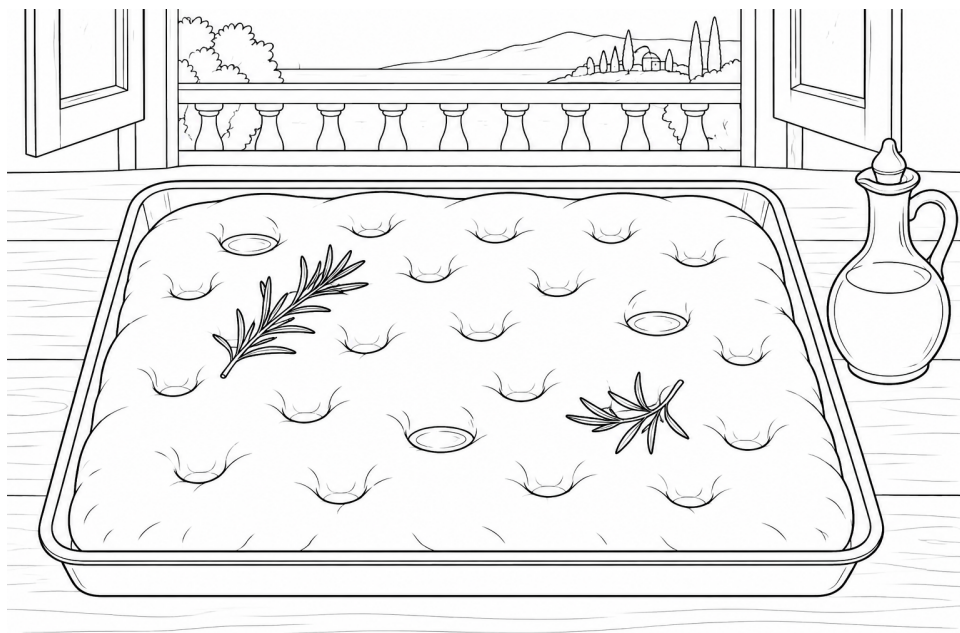

Color ideas

Source: King Arthur Baking, Sourdough for beginners

Focaccia Dimples

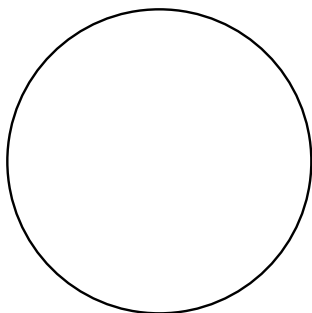

While the Dough Rises

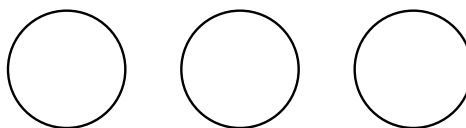

Focaccia's fingertip dimples can hold little pools of olive oil.

Make it yours

Color the dimples as a pattern, then choose a contrasting tone for the herb sprigs.

Plan a color rhythm for the focaccia dimples

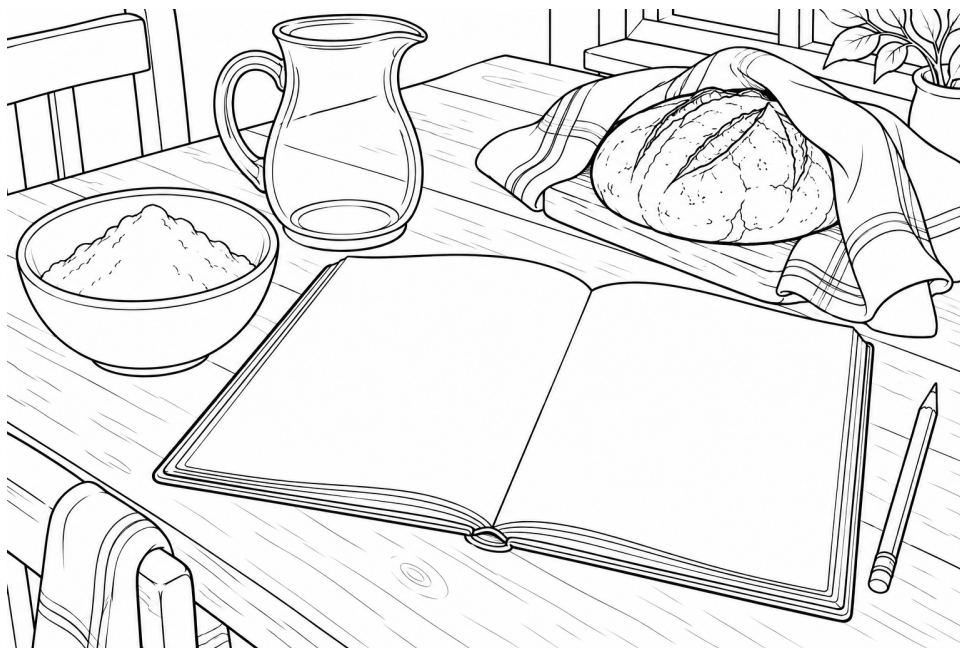

Your palette

Source: King Arthur Baking, Big and bubbly focaccia

The Baker's Notebook

While the Dough Rises

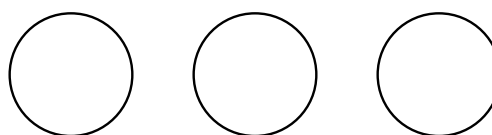

Bakers express water content as a percentage of the flour's weight.

Make it yours

Design a notebook cover that celebrates your favorite baking ritual.

Design a cover for your baking notebook

Color ideas

Source: King Arthur Baking, Baker's Percentage